West, Reds Deadlock On Indo Truce Policing

GENEVA (AP)—Western and Communist delegates wrestled with a new deadlock today over the thorny question of Red participationnin the policin of an Indochina armistice.

Agreement on this key point appeared remote as the nine-party Far Eastern conference prepared for another secret session today.

The deadlock developed at yesterday's closed-door meeting when Russia insisted that the Communists must be represented on any truce supervision commission. The Western Powers firmly said no.

Russia's Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov reflected the gravity of the problem when he told the conference it would be difficult to reach agreement on truce supervisory machinery unless Communists were represented on the proposed agency.

New Difficulty Arises

Another difficulty arose yesterday when Pham Van Dong, vice premier of the Communist-led Vietminh, declared the proposed neutral nations supervisory commission should be given only one task—controlling the entry of arms and troops from the outside.

He got quick support from Molotov, but France's Foreign Minister Georges Bidault declared that the commision should control all phases of a cease-fire, including regrouping of forces, policing of ports, watching Red China's frontiers and checking on all war materials.

Viewed As Serious

The new difficulties were regarded as extremely serious in view of the importance attached to the policing problem. Western diplomats have insisted from the beginning that there can be no cease-fire unless there is a truly neutral body to supervise implementation of agreements reached in Geneva.

Western officials argue that Communist nations cannot be neutral in a dispute where one of the parties is Communist.

The Reds indicated yesterday they want the major burden of supervising the cease-fire to be borne by mixed French-Vietminh commissions rather than the broader international body.

Bidault, on the other hand, said France would agree to have the neutral commission set up a small mixed subcommitte for local duties. But this, he said, should be limited in this function and should remain under control of the international group.

Want Asian Nations

The Western Powers, meanwhile, continued to study the question of how the proposed international body should be composed. They generally agreed that it should be made up mostly of Asian nations, but the exact terms of their proposal have not yet been worked out.

Russia's scheme for a four-nation commission appeared to have been killed off by Western opposition. The plan called for a Korean-type body — part Communist, the rest non-Red — for Indochina. The Soviets nominated Communist Poland and Czechoslovakia along with India and Pakistan.

School Merger Plans Tabled

Fairfield, Waterford Fail To Take Action

Plans for the projected consolidation of Fairfield and New Waterford school districts slowed up temporarily Wednesday night when the Fairfield Board of Education tabled further action and the New Waterford board voted to let the decision rest with the County Board of Education.

A delegation headed by T. V. Utterback, superintendent of Fairfield School, checked the validity Wednesday of 551 signatures on an unofficial petition opposing the merger.

The study at the County Election Board at East Liverpool showed that 181 of the signatures were valid. Those eligible to sign a petition are those who voted in the last general election. A third of the approximate 1,500 voters in the Fairfield district signed.

"We have tabled action for the time being until further study is made," James Sitler of RD 1, Columbiana, a Fairfield board member, said today. He spoke for James Cooper, president of the board, who was away.

Sitler said the petition, which was given to Cooper by the opposition leader Tuesday afternoon, is not a remonstrance petition, but rather a survey. "A remonstrance petition," he said, "is one circulated after the County Board of Education decides to consolidate. The result fo the poll is not binding on our decision."

Following a series of public meetings to inform people on the issue, proponents approached the opposition with the idea of conducting an objective survey prepared by both sides. The proposal was rejected, however, and the opponents drew their own petition, Utterback said.

If the merger is approved by the County Board of Education, a new centrally located high school would be constructed and the present New Waterford and Fairfield Schools would become elementary and junior high schools.

Henry Garrod, president of the New Waterford board, stated today the board decided to conclude meetings on the merger and to submit its report in favor of it to the County Board of Educatiot..

"We have enjoyed working with the Fairfield Board on the merger issue," Garrod declared. "We still feel that by joining with our neighbors we could have a strong rural school we could both be proud of."

The board president said public opinion in the New Waterford district is strongly in favor of the merger.

PLANE IS MISSING

NEW YORK (AP)—A 13-state police alarm was broadcast today for a Piper Cub airplane, reported missing since it left Bridgeton, N. J., Tuesday morning for Circleville, Ohio.

SUCCESSFUL DEBUT—The Navy's unearthly new XFY-1 vertical takeoff fighter plane made its public debut in action, rising 60 feet and hanging motionless inside the huge Moffett Field, Calif., dirigible hangar. The test was reported an unqualified success.

Defense Official Sought Airing Of M'Carthy Stand

Subcommittee Asks Senator To Act On Names Of Subversives

WASHINGTON (AP)—The McCarthy-Army investigations subcommittee refused today a request by Asst. Secretary of Defense H. Struve Hensel that it make public the record of a closed-door session on May 17.

Hensel had said he understood the record would show Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) conceded in this meeting that he had nothing to prove McCarthy's charges against Hensel.

The subcommittee, in a closed session in advance of today's televised hearings, decided to send a copy of the May 17 session to every person who attended the meeting, including Hensel, but to forbid them to make it public.

Copies "Confidential"

Chairman Mundt (R-SD) announced the decision. He said the copies would be stamped "confidential . . . not for attribution or publication" and would be circulated with that understanding.

A reporter asked whether the subcommittee had the right to "bind" Hensel on the matter. Mundt said "I suppose we have the same right as anyone else in the government to mark a document secret."

Mundt did not make clear what could be done about it if anyone "leaks" a copy of the transcripton to the press.

Mundt said the 45-minute subcommittee session debated only the one issue of what to do about the May 17 transcriptions, and never did get around to voting on whether to hand over to Secretary of Defense Wilson the names of 130 or more persons described by Sen. McCarthy as Communists employed in defense plants in New York and Massachusetts.

Urge FBI Get Reports

The hearing subcommittee voted yesterday to recommend that McCarthy and his chief counsel, Roy M. Cohn, turn the names over to the Defense Department.

At today's meeting, the same senators—with the exception of Sen. Dworshak (R-Idaho)—were sitting as the permanent Senate Investigations Subcommittee.

Last week the subcommittee voted 4-3 to dismiss Hensel and Francis P. Carr, chief of staff of the regular McCarthy subcommittee, as principals in the bristling dispute between the senator and Pentagon officials.

Hensel, however, has demanded that he be permitted to testify in his defense unless McCarthy withdraws his charges against Hensel or the subcommittee declares the charges are baseless.

McCarthy accused Hensel of "masterminding" the Army's charges that McCarthy and his aides brought improper pressure for favors for Pvt. G. David Schine former McCarthy subcommittee consultant. McCarthy said Hensel did this to try to discredit the subcommittee and block an investigation of Hensel's connections with a ship supply firm in World War II.

Dismissed As Principal

When the subcommittee dismissed Hensel as a principal, McCarthy raised no objection. But he said he was not withdrawing any charge.

Cohn had no sooner settled in the witness chair for his fifth day of testimony in the hearings before the old question of confidential informants and government employes who furnish information to the McCarthy subcommittee bobbed up again.

Cohn reported committee files still are being gone over for documentary evidence bearing on the work done by Schine (1) before July 1, when it became likely he would be drafted into the Army;

Allied Military Chiefs Convene

To Study Problems Of Red Asian Attack

WASHINGTON (AP)—The military commanders of five powers assembled today at the Pentagon to consider the problems of Communist-menaced Southeast Asia—questions which Secretary of Defense Wilson terms more political than military.

Ahead of the chiefs of staff or their representatives for the United States, Britain, France, Australia and New Zealand were five or six days of discussion of what might be done in a military way to save Southeast Asia, including direly threatened Indochina, from falling to Red domination.

Diplomats Decision

But any strategy, any further arms aid considered in these exploratory discussions was limited to existing or future decisions by the chiefs of state and diplomatic representatives of the five powers.

The military meeting obviously was something less than the American State Department had hoped for. And this was reflected in Wilson's comment to newsmen who met him last night upon his return from a three-week trip to the Far East.

The secretary said the people who had been in Washington knew more about the meeting than he.

"I will say that I understand the five-power discussions will be on a military level. I happen to think most of the problems are on a political level," he said.

Colonialism Involved

He was asked what people in the Far East thought about Indochina. "I think they (Asians) feel that Southeast Asia is a different proposition than East Asia," he said adding, "It's more involved with the remains of colonialism, which also complicates the problem."

Although the United States effort to bring about multilateral agreement among the big powers to stave off Red aggression in Southeast Asia has made no substantial progress, Wilson disclosed that forward steps have been taken in the combined effort of the Philippines and the United States.

He said he and President Ramon Magsaysay "agreed the time has come to implement the treaty" the two powers have made and that "we arrived at an agreement to go right ahead."

Belgian Plane Is Shot Up By MIG; 1 Killed

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — A Belgian freight plane was shot up by another plane today near the Yugoslav-Austrian frontier, and its radio officer killed. Two of the surviving crewmen described the attacking plane as a Russian-made MIG, possibly from Hungary.

The Belgian transport was a DE3 carrying pedigreed pigs from Britain to Belgrade, Yugoslavia. It had a crew of four—thre Belgians and a Briton. The dead radio operator was a Belgian, as were the pilot and a mechanic, both injured. The British co-pilot, uninjured, said the attacking plane was a MIG jet fighter, and an injured Belgian told a similar story.

The DC3, hit on the left side by cannon fire at perhaps 6,000 feet, made an emergency landing at Graz, Austria. The British co-pilot took 20 minutes to fly it back to Graz airfield.

Puerto Ricans' Trial Is Begun

Four Charged With Shooting Legislators

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four Puerto Ricans go on trial today with the job of jury selecting made doubly difficult by the heavy news coverage of their wild shooting spree March 1 in the House of Representatives.

Five congressmen were wounded when the Puerto Rican Nationalists, led by stony-faced Lolita Lebron, 34, splattered the House chamber with bullets from the visitors' gallery.

Pleas of innocent were entered for Mrs. Lebron and her three male colleagues—Rafael Cancel Miranda, Andres Fugueroa Cordero and Irvin Flores Rodrigue—at their arraignment March 5.

They are charged on five counts each with assault with intent to kill and on five counts each with assault with a dangerous weapon. Jailed with bonds set at $100,000 each—an amount none was able to raise—each faces a maximum possible sentence of 75 years in prison.

The task of picking a jury may take many hours. One question normally put to prospective jurors is: Have you read anything about this case in your newspapers or heard anything about it on radio—and television too, these days—that might prejudice your opinion?

Defending the four Puerto Ricans, who say they want independence for their country, are four court-appointed attorneys: F. Joseph Donohue, former chairman

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House committee aide said today the Internal Revenue Service, after a full investigation, has continued the tax-exemption status of the Facts Forum Foundation.

Arnold Koch, associate counsel for the special committee investigating tax-free foundations, said in an interview the service made no formal report of its probe of the educational organization headed by H. L. Hunt, wealthy Texan who is a backer of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

The name of the organization did not figure in the public testimony yesterday of either T. Coleman Andrews, commissioner of internal revenue, or an assistant, Norman A. Sugarman.

Rep. Hays (D-Ohio), a committee member, has insisted the group come in for inquiry along with the organizations of Ford, Carnegie and Rockefeller. Chairman Reece (R-Tenn) has said a spokesman for Facts Forum would be given an opportunity to testify later.

The committee turned today to a continuation of a report by its research staff with emphasis on the relationships between foundations and education.

Fair Trade Battle Warms Up, Discount Houses Being Attacked

NEW YORK (AP)—The battle over fair trade is warming up. Both sides are landing solid punches.

Manufacturers are spending millions hauling operators of cut-rate discount houses into court. The discount houses are fighting back, challenging the validity of state fair trade laws and lobbying for repeal legislation.

The pattern of the fair trade fight has been shaped in recent months by the emergence of the discount house as a significant force in the nation's retail distribution picture.

Discount houses, featuring nationally advertised brands of merchandise at below-list prices, are grabbing off an increasingly large share of the consumer's spending dollar. How big a share? No one seems to know for sure. Herbert S. Greenberg, counsel for the newly organized National Assn. of Discount Merchants, says the yearly total probably lies "somewhere between 5 and 10 billion dollars."

The discount seller's stock in trade is "fair traded" merchandise, whose prices are theoretically protected by state laws. And that covers a wide category: Cigarette lighters and pinking shears, lawn mowers and adding machines, toasters, coffee makers and power tools, fountain pens and manicure sets, bicycles and bathroom scales, mattresses and carpet sweepers.

Enforcement of fair trade laws in the various states is a legal hodge-podge of inconsistencies and contradictions.

Texas, Missouri and Vermont have no fair trade laws at all. The remaining 45 states have attempted to establish some sort of fair trade system with varying degrees of success.

Most have been more successful than the Florida legislature which has written three separate fair trade acts, all of which have been tested in the courts and declared in conflict with the Florida constitution.

Backbone of any effective fair trade law is the so-called non-signer clause. Basically, it provides that when a manufacturer and one or more retailers contract to sell the manufacturer's food mixer or vacuum cleaner at a specified price, all other retailers in the state are bound by that agreement, whether they sign or not.

Court opinions on the merits of the non-signer clause are as varied as the judges who write them. Some examples:

General Electric Co., a leader in the manufacturers' war on discount houses, sued a cut-rate seller in Nebraska. A lower court held that fair trade is "deceptive and misleading" and "not a proper exercise of the state's police powers." The non-signer clause was ruled unconstitutional. An appeal is pending.

In a similar case in Indiana, a U.S district court rendered the opinion that the overall effect of fair trade "is to lower, not increase, prices to the consuming public." The court also blasted "predatory price cutting" which, it said, "threatens serious injury to producers of trade-marked or branded goods and business generally."

Thus the principle of fair trade was condemned in one state, upheld in another.

"In a test case in Independence Chancery Court in Batesville, Ark., the court that Arkansas, 1937 fair trade act is unconstitutional. Another test case is pending in Delaware.

In Louisiana—scene of the famous "Schwegmann case" — efforts are being made to repeal fair trade. Minnesota and Utah both have state enforcement of manufacturer-fixed prices, but in Texas or Missouri you can be arrested for entering into a fair trade contract. Fair trade's future is uncertain at the moment in Tennessee and Georgia.

What may turn out to be a climactic battle is shaping up on the banks of the Potomac, Washington, D. C., has no fair trade law—a fact which has prompted at least one big discount house to use the capitol as base of operations for a snowballing inter-state mail order business. Brand-name items can be shipped with impurity into fair trade states—at widely advertised discount prices.

A bill now pending in the U.S Senate would plug this discount loop-hole. The proposal — hearings were started by a Senate subcommittee last week — would impose fair trade in the District of Columbia. Friends and foes of fair trad are watching the hearings closely. Each side would welcome a congressional decision in its favor as a major triumph.

U. S. farm exports in January, 1954, were valued at 205 million dollars, about 24 per cent below those of the previous January.

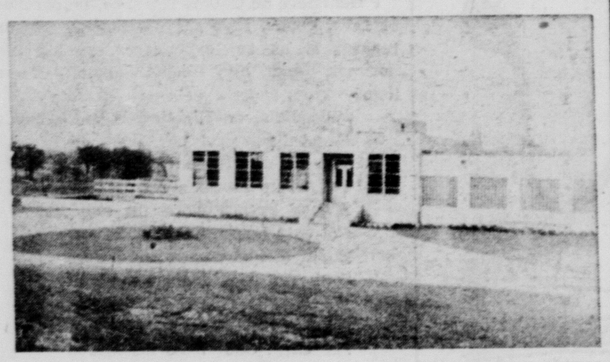
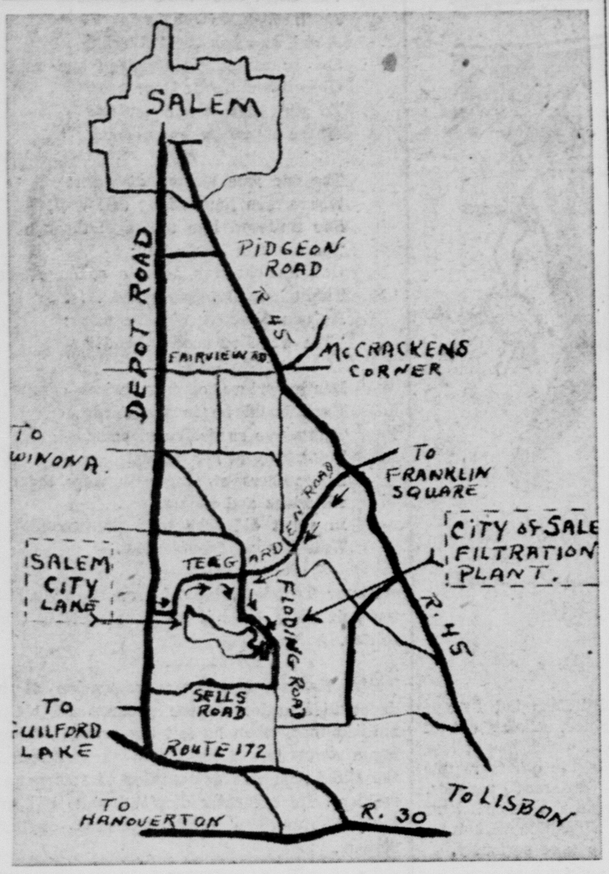
Public Urged To Make Inspection

Open House Planned At City Water Plant During June





Water Superintendent Aubrey Hayes today announced an open house to be held at the Salem Water Filtration Plant off Teegarden Rd., during the month of June.

The filtration plant will be open to all the public from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. each day and until 4 p.m. Sundays. An operator will be on hand during these hours to explain the workings of the city's water plant.

Special arrangements for groups to go through will be made, Hayes said. Organizations should contact the Water Office at City Hall.

Started in 1950, the city's new plant was put in operation in November, 1952.

Alongside the plant is the 115-acre lake which, when filled to maximum capacity, holds 680 million gallons of water, more than a year's supply for Salem.

The lake is now only seven inches down from its maximum height of 39 feet. With lack of rain the past week the flow in Cold Run and East Cold Run, the source of the city's water supply, has decreased.

Hayes said today the flow has been sufficient to maintain the level in the lake but not to heighten it.

Jenkins Says Monitored Calls Disappointing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ray H. Jenkins, special counsel for the McCarthy-Army hearings, says the public is in for a "tremendous disappointment" if monitored telephone calls are made public.

Jenkins said yesterday in an interview that some of the calls "shed no light whatever" on the issues in the dispute, while others 'shed only a slight light."

He's pretty sure the fire is out because the car is still six feet under water.

New Textbook By Industrial Group Has Salem History

A new high school reader, "The Story of Our Community," has been published by the Industrial Information Institute.

The textbook contains about two pages on historical and modern day Salem. This city's importance in the Mahoning and Shenango valleys and in the nation is expressed in the language of the institute.

Prepared under the direction of the Schools Advisory Committee of the institute, it is the last in a series of eight published by the committee for use in grades three through eleven.

The new reader was written for ninth, tenth and eleventh grade students.

Initial orders for the reader from Mahoning and Shenango Valley school systems have reached 1,000 and more orders are expected before school opens in September, the institute reports.

The purpose of the reader, the institute points out, is to help students better understand the American way of life by making their own communities living examples.

Speaking of Salem, the reader declares, "It combines the peaceful dignity of life in a smaller town with the occupational advantages of an industrial city."

It adds, "Woven into the very fabric of the city are great industrial plants where clays are made into fine dishes, and sheets of steel become automobile parts, gleaming white kitchen equipment, and — in time of war, materials for the protection of our way of life."

Ralph Bunche's Loyalty

Unanimous agreement by members of a board set up last summer to examine U.S. citizens employed by the United Nations that Dr. Ralph Bunche is loyal is only a routine news item if stated correctly.

Dr. Bunche is one of nearly 1,800 U.S. citizens examined by the board. He is however, the most important because he is the top-ranking American in the United Nations and slated to be its undersecretary. The fact he is colored and has been awarded a Nobel prize for his work as an international peacemaker caused unusual attention to be given to him when his name came up.

But this same information stated incorrectly can easily be made to sound, as if Ralph Bunche had not been investigated to confirm his loyalty but had been investigated because of some suspicion of disloyalty.

It depends on where the emphasis is placed.

It is the difference between saying that Joe Doakes has been cleared of a charge of child-beating and saying Joe has been given a certificate of merit as a good father.

Some reports concerning Dr. Bunche gave the impression he was being investigated for disloyalty when in fact he was being checked for evidence of his loyalty — the same as nearly 1,800 other U. N. employes.

The classical twister — Have you stopped beating your wife?—has a new twist in these days of guilt by innuendo.

Have you been cleared lately of suspicion for wife-beating?

Bipartisan Foreign Policy Absurd

There's talk in Washington again of a bipartisan foreign policy. Congressmen doing the talking should look at what happened when Republictns thought they were practicing bipartisanship a few years ago.

As it turned out later, what they really practiced was an abdication of their responsibility as the loyal opposition while New Dealers blandly put the United States through the wringer at Yalta, Potsdam and in the decision to abandon Asia to the Chinese Communists.

The very idea of a bipartisan foreign policy is absurd, because it implies that the right of dissent can be suspended in the United States by the decision of a few congressmen.

There can be bipartisan agreement on separate points of foreign policy; there frequently has been. But to assume that majority and minority parties can agree in advance to underwrite any policy which the majority party decides to follow is to assume the two-party system can be turned on and off at will.

What seems to be meant when a bipartisan policy is proposed is a suspension of discussion. That was what the New Dealers had in mind during World War II, when they wanted Franklin Roosevelt and Harry Truman to have a free hand without the embarrassment of congressional discussion. They finally quit going through even the motions of consultation.

The Eisenhower administration has followed a policy of consultation to keep senators and representatives informed of its foreign-policy plans and procedures.

This has failed to satisfy many Democrats and some Republicans. But it's the Democrats who are talking about a bipartisan foreign policy. Sen. Lehman of New York even suggests that Secretary of State Dulles should consult with Dean Acheson, the former secretary of state during the Truman administration, in order to earn Democratic support.

Would Lehman go so far as to let Dulles occasionally disagree with Acheson? Or would that be proof of bipartisanship?

Off The Record At Geneva

A report from Geneva by David Lawrence is the only note of cheer from a meeting which was not expected to accomplish much and has been exceeding expectations.

Lawrence reports what rarely is reported from these international goldfish conferences—that the negotiators are not saying in private what they feel they must say in public.

He believes in their private meetings they are talking frankly about the responsibilty of governments in this period of massive military preparations to make certain that no one blunders into a major war accidentally.

That is one point on which all diplomats can see eye to eye.. They have everything to lose and nothing to gain by letting militarists come to blows. Therefore, they must set up every conceivable safeguard against war which might be set off by accident.

To this end, reports Lawrence, they have been talking with one another sincerely and candidly at Geneva behind a facade of remarks for public consumption. This is the traditional pattern of high-level diplomacy. Apparently it has required an observed of David Lawrence's experience to comprehend its significance at Geneva.

The stores will tell you what the bathing girls will wear this summer while the reformers will tell you what they won't.

Europe And America Present Study In Contrasts

LONDON

Having just examined a bath of front pages of representative newspapers sent from different parts of the United States and having just looked at the principal British and French newspapers of the last few days, one finds the contrast impressive.

Over here there seems to be an awareness of the world tension, whereas in America the many domestic issues and controversies appear to have absorbed the nation's attention.

This correspondent has often thought that each week a war communique could be written on "World War III Communist style," which has been going on for a long time now without events being put into perspective.

The Communist activities in many parts of the world are related to a global plan of "cold War." Here is how the communique would read if written on the basis of happenings of the last few days in which Communist intrigue unquestionably played a part:

1. Pakistan — Communist conspirators have stirred up trouble in the eastern part of this country, and the central government has just dismissed the Bengal Cabinet and taken over. More than 300 persons have been arrested in a crackdown on Communist violence.

2. Central Africa—The British governor of Uganda has reimposed a state of emergency in the province as a means of meeting the pressure of threats and intimidation by native leaders. Three local newspapers accused of stirring up trouble have been suppressed.

3. Tunisia (North Africa)—Measures have been announced by the French authorities to stamp out terrorism, including the arming of French settlers. Infantry reinforcements have arrived here from Algeria.

4. Egypt—Another Briton has been killed in the Suez Canal zone, and other disturbing incidents reveal that conditions of stability are not being achieved. There is evidence of deliberate efforts to foment more differences between Egypt and Great Britain.

5. Central America—Discovery of shipments of arms consigned to Guatemala from Poland has produced great unrest in the neighboring republics, as the Communist strategy converges on the Panama Canal.

THE COMMUNIQUE could include many other pertinent items, among them the news of the espionage conducted on Australian territory by Soviet agents and the revelations of espionage in the trials in northern Norway which form a pattern with the espionage data obtained by Americans from Khokhlov and others who are deserting from the Communist side of the Iron Curtain.

Any communique, moreover, would have to be devoted to the rather extensive "hot war" now going on in Indochina where the forces of France and many thousands of native troops are daily engaged in hostilities. The impact of the Indochina War on the whole world cannot be underestimated.

Thus, in a telephone talk today, a well-informed newspaper man in Germany reports a state of uneasiness in that country about the possible outbreak of a general war.

Whenever the world seems tottering toward a general war, the people of Germany—who think they may be the first to bear the brunt of military operations—get nervous.

IT CANNOT BE denied that talk of American intervention in the Indochina War is interpreted by many Europeans as a possible forerunner to a world war of an atomic nature.

The Geneva Conference has been watched with far more sensitivity in Europe than in America, and yet Europeans are inclined to believe the fate of Indochina rests upon American aid. Otherwise, they write off that area as likely to be soon in the control of the communists.

It should be noted that, with all the talk of "partition" of Indochina which has been coming from the French side, Molotov opposes any such arrangement.

He prefers that all of Viet Nam be kept intact and not divided. He wants "general elections" and is confident that in such elections Viet Nam would fall to the Communist-led Vietminh groups.

The London viewpoint on Geneva is one of restrained hope. The conservative newspapers give Foreign Minister Eden credit for having moved the conference along to its present stage, but they indicate their skepticisms as to the ultimate outcome.

IT SEEMS CLEAR that when Molotov returned to Moscow, he went to obtain from the Kremlin a decision on how far he should go either in stalling a settlement or in agreeing to some formula for settlement. It is obvious that his original instructions were to feel out the situation and see how firm the positions of the various delegations were—something that it has taken five weeks to develop —and then come up with a scheme either for early settlement or eventual compromise.

It is possible that the French reorganization of its military setup in Indochina has had a profound effect on the Soviets, for the Moscow newspaper comments indicate considerable irritation with the French and manifest applause for the British efforts to attain an agreement at Geneva.

The diplomatic game of devious method sometimes succeeds and all is then forgiven but, when it breaks down, the recriminations are likely to be severe. So Eden's fate depends on whether the Soviets finally come along with a peace plan for Indochina that the West can accept.

No Accounting For Tastes

Tasts differ, and differences of opinion make horse races, besides enabling homely girls to land husbands.

I do not like hard candy that is colored purple because it always seems to have been flavored with cheap perfume.

I like sardines with their tails left on because the tail has a flavor all its own.

Ordinary sopranos and soprano-shaped singers in general strike me as wasted wind and weight.

But when Lily Pons used to sing more frequently I used to hire her figuratively to do all my singing for me from that point onward.

Parsley served on a plate in a restaurant makes me feel like calling the manager and registering a complaint. But parsley growing fresh in a garden never fails to tempt me to munch a handful.

Dogs make me want to get better acquainted if the dogs are willing, but miniature breeds and lap dogs make me want to reach for the fly-swatter.

Strenuous games like tennis and marathon golf matches seem to me to be a discreditable reflection on people who get into a lather over them but it makes good sense to me when I get into a lather over building a stone fence.

Although there is no taste in summer that beats the taste of a fresh, ripe peach, I wouldn't reach across the table for a canned peach or a frozen peach in summer or any other season.

For my taste, automobiles are getting too goldfish-bowly and eventually will have to go back in the direction of being the snug little hideaways on wheels which made them attractive in the first place.

In my opinion, the politicos in Washington are hanging themselves in their own rope and are about to feel the effect of a hostile reaction from excessive politics which will put them on the defensive for a generation.

I believe the only bread worth eating is that chewy kind of white bread that commands a premium price because it's old-fashioned and the dark brown bread that comes in little loaves and is an imitation of Old World black bread.

It is my personal hunch that the toughest effects of inflation are still to be felt, as prices keep going higher while earning power keeps sagging;

It also is my personal hunch that—

The most obsolete thing in the country is the public school curriculums being used n most localities;

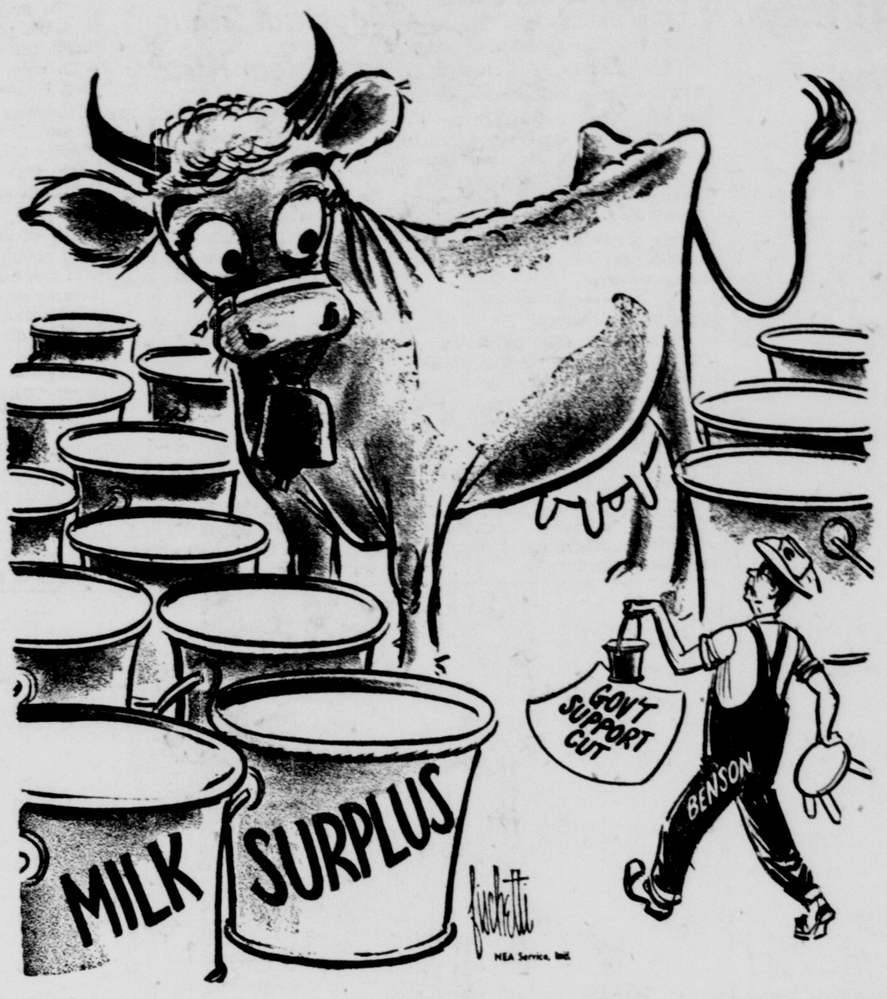
The prettiest women in the United States are too dignified to let their beauty be commercialized;

One or both of the present two major political parties will disappear within three more presidential elections;

The silly season which used to occur during dog days now is in vogue the whole year 'round—

And the only satisfactory flower for an ordnary gardner is the zinnia, which blooms and blooms and never get sick.

Who's Boss?



Communists In Hollywood

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Since April, 1951, a two-phase program developed in Hollywood, which is probably the best example of cleansing an industry of a heavy Communist infiltration. This effort was initiated by certain members of motion picture management and by a group of self-appointed anti-Communists who believed that the problems of Hollywood could be solved without hatred, without vindictiveness, even with an anxiety to win back to constructive Americanism those who had wandered away.

Sokolsky

The turnover among Communists, particularly among intellectuals and talented persons, has been enormous since 1939, but many who have left the party fear that one of the consequences of confession is ridicule and rejection, and sensitive people dread both reactions. The problem then was to find a formula for restoring those who were sincere in their conversion to usefulness in their professions, so that they could serve their country as ardently as they once served its enemy.

THE HOLLYWOOD effort was a tremendous success because of its two-phase characteristic. The first phase is represented by opposition to the continued use of Communists in motion pictures, not because of the contents of the pictures they made, but because they had provided a huge treasury for the Communist party. The aim was to attack that treasury and that was accomplished.

It was possible to say in 1953 that no known Communists were being employed in Hollywood in the motion picture industry.

The second phase was the effort to bring back to positive Americanism and to make effective in every way men and women who had once been Communsts or who were "clearing" former Communist activities. This phase of the work has often been misunderstood. It gave the entirely erroneous impression that a group of self-appointed anti - Communists were "clearing' former Communists.

No one can "clear" another person; it can only be done by the individual himself as an act of conscience. After the program got going, some persons set themselves up as "clearers" commercially. This did not seriously affect the program.

Talented and sensitive men and women were encouraged to move through that profoundly emotional period between breaking with the Communist party and making the break known to the world. Psychologically this is one of the most difficult tasks any person can face.

IT SOMETIMES takes years of self - examination, of confession and contrition before that step can be taken. Anyone who has had experience with this problem knows this to be true.

Of some 300 persons with which this group dealt, possibly only one is generally regarded as a backslider and nobody is sure about him.

The first break in this particular effort was when Roy Brewer of the IATSE ceased to be a labor leader. He went into management; he remained president of the Motion Picture Alliance, the most effective anti-Communist organization in Hollywood.

Roy Brewer's value to the anti-Communist cause was the fact that his attitude was related to saving an industry, in which the members of his union worked, not only from Communist infiltration but from popular resistance, arising out of such infiltration, which meant loss of jobs. Most of the others in this activity had different reasons, strictly ideological reasons, but Brewer's was a position that management had to take seriously.

DURING THE PAST few months, there is evidence that the Communists or Fifth Amendment witnesses are creeping back into Hollywood.

Particular objections are being made to the picture, "Salt of the Earth," produced under the auspices of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers. Considerable excitement was aroused throughout the production of this picture, leading to charges and defenses, especially as to some persons who participated in the making of this picture. There was resistance to the picture being shown. Now it is being shown.

The problem that the anti-Communists feel that they face is that somehow the Communist treasury in Hollywood will be restored. Even those who are opposed to Sen. McCarthy realize that one of the effects of the Stevens - McCarthy hearing has been to lessen the activities of congressional committees so that this phase of anti-Communist activity is at a standstill and the Communists are taking advantage of it wherever they can, particularly in Hollywood.

When there is little fear of congressional investigations and exposures, the Communists usually enjoy a field day. They work all the time.

T. Manville's Communique

By TRUMAN TWILL

A cablegram from Salvador, capital of El Salvador, down in Central America, brings the significant news that T. Manville has abandoned his Latin American tour and is flying home.

He frankly acknowledged that a blessed event at the Twillery has caused him to change his mind about spending any more time down there in that politics-ridden part of the world. He says:

"If you have no objections, I will be home the week after Memorial Day. Your telegram about the kittens concerns me greatly. I cannot understand the gray one.

"Even though all cats are gray at night, which is a line from a poem I read once, you say this one is gray all the time. According to my table of genetics, gray is a recessive color in catdom, which means that its occurrence in a litter of tiger kittens would have to be explained by something that happened several generations ago and is just now coming to light.

"Before I left the Twillery, I had gone over all the lists of cats for the township and four adjoining townships and the only gray cats of which I had any record were of the female persuasion. You will understand when I tell you that we black tomcats and tigers are jealous of our line and try to drive out of circulation all gray tomcats.

"Since our colorings are dominant and not recessive, we hope to establish eventually a pure line in which all kittens will be one or the other. This will be a great improvement, from our point of view, besides being a considerable convenience in concealing lineage.

"You simply have no idea how it galls us to hear human beings speculating on the paternal parentage of kittens and eyeing all of us with suspicion every time there is a blessed event. And that brings me back to my reason for coming home.

"When the mother of the new kittens was a mere kitten herself —and she is scarcely more than that now — I made her promise me that she would support home industry and give a cold shoulder to strangers. Either she has broken her promise to me or we overlooked something when we were purging all the tomcats that were neither black nor tigerish.

"In other words, things being as they are down here — a diversion to keep the United States from thinking too hard about getting militarily involved in Indochina — I had better come home where I have a chance to do some good.

"These cats down here can talk about nothing but politics, politics, politics. They are as split up emotionally as you say the folks are back home over the issues in that hearing. But that, I gather, is not an issue of politics. From what you say it is an issue in government.

"Anyway I want to know more about that gray kitten. And as long as you now have six cats, you might as well have seven. We never had more fun around the place than the summer we were eight. Don't look for me. I'll look for you."

The human heart is like a millstone in a mill: when you put wheat under it, it turns and grinds and bruises the wheat to flour; if you put no wheat, it still grinds on, but then 'tis itself it grinds and wears away.—Martin Luther.

Dick Haymes has won a suspension of his deportation order on the grounds he wasn't notified that, when he left the country, following a surrender of his rights as a citizen of the U.S.A., he was not entitled to return as a resident. He evidently didn't dream that giving up American citizenship was anything serious.

We know a fellow who went to the recent N.Y. Central Proxy battle to see how a big railroad was run with the cowcatchers on the people operating, or seeking to operate, it.

Arthur Pryor, Jr., top advertising agency man who died in New York the other day, was the son of Arthur Pryor, once America's top bandmaster, and a grandson of Sam Pryor also a band leader. Arthur was born in rooms above a St. Joseph Mo., theater where his grandfather was giving a concert. . . . His dad was on a tour of Russia with Sousa at the time. . . . (Whoremembers those bands of the past, Sousa, Pryor, Creatore:)

Liberace in a Milwaukee appearance mentioned that in tougher days his parents were on relief there. The town billed him and Liberace promptly sent a check.

Ava Gardner is quoted as saying she will divorce Sinatra, perhaps to wed Luis Dominguin, the bullfighter. . . . We hear this explains a postal to Frankie which read: "Everybody is very nice to met over here, in fact they are rolling out the matador." The switch from crooner and Hollywood star to a fighter of Anbalusian bulls would seem to be the pol wault of the year . . . But crooning can get tiresome and there perhaps comes a time when a man who can't sing a note but announces "I can lick any animal in the house" moves any woman.

Ohio Police, Sheriffs Making Increased Use of Lie Detectors

Ohiop olice and sheriff's offices have in recent months made increasing use of the lie detector device in criminal cases. How does the machine work? What's the procedure when a citizen is subjected to the test? Staffer Bill Terry visited the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Identification at London Prison Farm to find out. He tells about the machine in a series of three articles.

By BILL TERRY

LONDON, Ohio (AP)—Scarcely a day passes that the lie detector at the State Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation doesn't get a workout.

The chief of the bureau, L. A. Hollingsworth, says it proves the lie detector, or polygraph, is becoming an increasingly important tool of police officers, sheriffs, coroners and prosecuting attorneys in criminal investigations.

The state lie detector has been used in about 200 cases so far this year. Police departments in Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus and Toledo have their own machines.

The polygraph was presented to the bureau five years ago by the Ohio Sheriffs' Assn. and is available to sheriffs of all 88 Ohio counties as well as other law enforcement officers.

It's impossible to name a major crime in which the lie detector hasn't been used — murder, robbery, burglary, embezzlement, rape. All types of felonies and even some misdemeanor cases if they're important enough have been solved by its use.

Hollingsworth says his bureau has had as much experinece in giving lie detector tests as almost any other. Three specially trained men—Alvis Kimball, Pete Galloway and Joe Martina—work the lie detector regularly, and sometimes the bureau's chief investigator, Fred Dengler, helps out.

The operators took long courses in training on operating the polygraph which records at the same time the blood pressure, breathing and body electrical currents of the person taking the test.

Recording pens mark changes in blood pressure, breathing and body electrical current on a moving tape. A fourth pen shows the time it takes to answer a question asked by the operator.

Trained operators studying the type can tell whether a person is telling the truth when he answers a question.

Confronted with results of the test, some suspects admit crimes and make confessions right at the bureau, said Hollingsworth. Their confessions can be recorded on tape recorders and transcribed later.

The bureau never points the finger at a man and says "he did it." Its reports say only that a suspect does have or does not have guilty knowledge of a crime.

That information is turned over to police officers and it is up to them to carry on the questioning from there.

No one can be forced to submit to a lie detecto test. The person taking the test signs a paper saying he is taking it of his own free will. After the test he signs the tape, preventing the possibility of his tape being mixed up accidentally with that of another person.

Law enforcement officers aren't allowed in the room when the test is being given. Only the operator and an assistant and the person taking the test are there. Everything is done to put the subject in as soothing a frame of mind as possible. He is told what the lie detector can do, before the test begins.

Judge Tells Pair They're Too Poor For Divorce

CHICAGO (AP) — Mrs. Alice C. Moore, 30, asked for temporary alimony to support herself and a daughter, Karol, 1, pending a hearing on her divorce suit against Robert Moore, 32.

Moore, questioned by Superior Court Judge Alan E. Ashcraft, said he earns $272 a month as a shipping clerk and has fixed expenses of $159.

"You're too poor to enjoy the luxury of a divorce," Judge Ashcraft told the couple. "You're foolish even to want one. I suggest you become reconciled."

The Moores agreed and left the courtroom hand in hand.

Robot Doctor Developed For Use In Surgery

WASHINGTON (AP)— The National Bureau of Standards has developed a kind of robot doctor to keep a continuous check on the condition of a patient on the operating table.

The electronic device automatically measures and records the patient's blood pressure, heart beat and breathing throughout the operation. These are normally checned periodically by the doctor or technician who administers the anesthesia. He reports them to the surgeon.

But sometimes he gets busy with his other duties and cannot check often enough to catch an irregularily promptly, officials explained.

N. Middle St. To Be Paved

Property Owners To Bear Expense

COLUMBIANA — A petition from owners of properties fronting on N. Middle St. from Allen Ave. north to W. Salem St. requesting that the section of street be paved at their own expense was presented to village council Tuesday by Charles Fisher, member of council and owner of property on the street.

Council accepted the proposal and will proceed at once with the details.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peshek of 795 W. Main St., Alliance, who plan to build an $18,000 residence on three lots at Oak and McDonald Sts., in the area north of Quincy Ave., were before council with a request that the lines of the streets be defined and that they be graded around the site.

Council will have the engineering work done and the street department will haul the slag to be provided by the owner for the temporary surface. Mrs. Peshek is a daughter of Mrs. Belle Logan, Quincy Ave.

The parking lot in the rear of the Manos heater was reported to have been completed. Police were instructed to enforce the ordinance prohibiting parking along the drives in Firestone Park.

On motion of Councilman Clifford Orr, council adopted a resolution commending the caretakers of the cemetery and the park for the beautiful appearance of both for the Memorial Day observance. Street Commissioner Carl Spratt had his force at work early Monday morning cleaning up Pittsburgh and S. Main Sts., which presented a spotless appearance for the parade.

Traffic hazards at the Route 46 and Route 164 intersections with the Route 14 by-pass at the north corporations line were discussed. It is expected that the state will have to erect more adequate warning signs.

STREET Commissioner Spratt reported that Ralph Heck, builder, is providing about 130 feet of 10-inch tile for the drainage of his housing development on West St., North, which the street department will lay to a catch basin.

Solicitor John L. Hutson was instructed to draft an ordinance making a permanent appointment of William McGuckin as chief of police. McGuckin has been filling the vacancy created by the resignation of R. G. Millen six months ago. Bonds of Patrolmen Thomas Dodds and Lyle Perkins were approved.

May police receipts for the village totaled $1,504.30. Chief McGuckin reported $658.77, of which $532.97 was from meter deposits, $66 from meter ticket fines, and $59.80 from fines and costs in mayor's court. Mayor Walter Thomas turned into the village treasury $887.30 from 52 state highway patrol cases.

Contractors are charging for oiling alleys this spring 36 cents a running foot for each strip six feet wide, Street Commissioner Spratt reported.

Council President Herbert Souder presided at the meeting, Mayor Thomas having been called away by the death of his mother in Salem.

of the District of Columbia Board of Commissioners, as senior counsel, and Myron G. Ehrlich, Abe Goldstein and Ben Paul Noble as associate counsels.

The prosecution is being handled by U.S. Dist. Atty. Leo A. Rover, with the help of his chief criminal assistant, John Conliff.

Mrs. Lebron said at her arraignment she wanted it clearly understood why she and her young companions—all in their 20s—were there:

"I would like it to be charged that what I committed was the defense of my country."

U.S. Dist. Judge James W. Morris, who had trouble understanding her broken English, asked whether she still pleaded innocent.

"Yes, on those grounds," she replied.

The most seriously wounded of the five congressmen shot was Rep. Alvin H. Bentley (R-Mich), who hovered for days on the critical list with a shattered liver. He is now back at work along with the others—Representatives George H. Fallon (D-Md), Kenneth A. Roberts (D-Ala), Clifford Davis (D-Tenn) and Ben F. Jensen (R-Iowa).

Hearing

(2) between July 1 and Nov. 3, when he entered the Army, and (3) after Nov. 3 when he got numerous passes from Ft. Dix, N. J., to finish up work for the committee.

Cohn said the bulk of Schine's work after he entered the Army consisted of helping draft four committee reports.

Cohn said there also is a witness list prepared by Schine, and names and addresses of confidential informants.

No Names Given

Cohn said names and addresses of confidential informants should not be put in evidence. No one pressed for these names and addresses.

As soon as the sorting is completed, with the names of informants eliminated, Cohn said, he will notify committee counsel Ray Jenkins.

Special Army counsel Joseph Welch said he regarded Schine's "work product" after he went into the Army as most interesting to him. But, he said, Schine's work product between July 1 and Nov. 3, when he was drafted, was "almost equally interesting."

Yesterday's session ended with the vote to recommend that McCarthy's list of 130 alleged Communists in defense plants be turned over to the Defense Department.

McCarthy later told newsmen he would have an aide phone the department and tell it to send someone to see him and get the list. But he added:

"It's sort of a useless gesture . . . because the security officers I am sure already have as much information as we do on Communists in defense plants."

McCarthy declared the way to get rid of the 130 is to "expose" them.

McCarthy whose differences with the Eisenhower administration have been building up during the hearings, tangled yesterday with another official, Director Allen Dulles of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).

He spoke of 'Communist infiltration of the CIA" and said "it disturbs me beyond words."

Dulles, a brother of the secretary of state, replied in a statement that the charge was false. He said he had written McCarthy last Oct. 22 asking for any information the senator might have on CIA personnel but had "not had a word from him on that subject."

GOP Builds Up Housing Support

Leaders Push Passage Of Ike's Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Leaders called a closed-door strategy meeting of all Republican senators today in the hope of lining up enough votes to assure passage of new housing legislation asked by President Eisenhower.

The housing legislation under fire from some Southern Democrats and a number of Republicans comes up for debate later today. No votes are anticipated until tomorrow at the earliest.

In advance of today's strategy session, Sen. John M. Butler (R-Md) said in an interview that although he had never been friendly to the idea of public housing, he might very well vote for the administration program.

GOP Leader Knowland of California evidently hoped to tighten party lines in view of the unexpected opposition to this part of the over-all housing legislation by Sen. Maybank (D-SC), in the past a strong advocate of public housing.

Maybank has already offered an amendment to the bill which would strip it of all public housing authority. He switched position after the Supreme Court recently refused to consider an appeal from the San Francisco Housing Authority asking approval of a segregation policy in a low-rent housing project.

The Banking Committee approved a far more extensive program than proposed by Eisenhower—35,000 units a year for the next four years—but Chairman Capehart (R-Ind) plans to ask the Senate to approve the President's program. In its version of the bill, the House included no authority for public housing.

The senate committee bill includes these major provisions:

1. Lower down payments and longer repayment periods for homes bought with FHA-insured mortgages.

2. Continuation of present limits on home repair and modernization loans—$2,500 repayable in three years. The administration sought to liberalize this program.

3. Continuation of the present Federal National Mortgage Assn., the government's big secondary market for mortgages owned by private ownership of this secondary market facility.

4. A slum clearance and urban redevelopment program and special mortgage terms on low-cost housing erected as a result of slum clearance.

IDENTIFIED IN ROBBERY

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP)—Gas station attendant Martin Higley yesterday identified William Brown, 24, of Findlay as one of a trio who held him up earlier Wednesday. Brown escaped Sunday from Lebanon State Prison Farm near Cincinnati where he was serving a one to seven-year term for grand larceny. Findlay and Lima police say they believe the same trio robbed a Lima tavern here yesterday of about $3,00. Tavern owner Jack Ferdo, 49, who had been in ill health, died a few hours after the robbery. He apparently suffered a heart attack.

The East Liverpool fire department's hook-and-ladder outfit will conduct a flag-raising ceremony after the queen and her court are recognized.

Ralph Rose, general chairman, said a "bomb" will announce the start of the parade.

Kiddies Day will be held Saturday, beginning at noon. Rides will be half price.

STRIKE SLOWS WORK

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — A strike of 11 boilermakers is slowing work on a 76-oven by-products coke battery at Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. The AFL boilermakers are seeking 12½-cent hourly pay raises.

6 Men Held For Running Big Still

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Six men accused of running two 60-gallon stills near New Straitsville, Perry County, yesterday were arraigned before U.S. Commissioner Robert W. Newlon who set bonds at $1,000 each. No pleas were entered.

The six are Bearl Lanning, 50; Roy Wilbur Lanning, 37, and Leslie L. Lanning, 30, of Glouster; Zearnie E. Lanning, 35, and Ervin E. Waddell, 36, both of New Straitsville, and Woodrow Wilson Spencer, 38, of Nelsonville. Spencer posted bond and was freed. The other five were held in city prison.

Their arrests followed a raid last Saturday by state liquor control agents, investigators from the Internal Revenue Department and sheriff's deputies from Hocking and Perry counties.

The six were charged with violating federal alcohol tax laws.

Trio Shoot Up Town, But Sound Fire Alarm

PAYSON, Ariz. (AP)—When three gun slingers tried to shoot up this cattle town, they forgot about the new fire alarm.

The alarm is three shots in rapid succession. That's exactly what one of the trio fired into the air.

The fire chief, Dick Black, and a citizen, George Coen, came running. Coen, 30, went home for his own guns and, in a scuffle, 36-year-old Ralph Garrells was shot in the hip.

Coen was jailed. Garrells was hospitalized. And peace came back to Payson.

Economics Class Proves It Learned Its Lesson

TOWSON, Md. (AP)—Prof. Frederick G. Reuss at Goucher College wanted to know if the 31 girls in his economics class were getting enough out of their class room theory.

So he launched an investment project backed by almost $1,000 from the college. He asked each girl to take a single stock to analyze and report on as a potential investment.

The would-be female tycoons have done so well, the investment pool is bringing in income at 6 per cent per annum. When profits reach about $1,000, the girls plan to set up a scholarship fund at the college.

Prof. Reuss is more than satisfied at the results. He now takes market tips from the girls and admits his own investments have done "all right."

Man Climbs Into Seat Of Car, Finds Bear There

EGAR, Ariz. (AP)—Imagine Charley Patterson's surprise when he climbed into the front seat of his stalled car on a lonely mountain road at night, and felt a bear sitting next to him.

Patterson, a mechanic, had just filled the empty gas tank. He whirred the motor and headed for town.

"I thought it was an awfully big dog," he said later. "I chained him to the door on the other side of the front seat."

CHILD DIES IN CREEK

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Ten-year-old Eddie Crews drowned yesterday after wading in the Miami River, sheriff's deputies said. Two schoolmates with him said Eddie apparently stumbled over a drop-off.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

For giving me a statement in behalf of his chief, a bright young crusading federal investigator was fired from his job last week.

Victor Riesel

Until then he was chief counsel of a House committee set up to look into the use of some unions by the mobs.

The statement given me expressed bitter indignation over the influence of unknown circles upon Congress. These were circles which just did not want an effective national probe into labor rackets.

This self-effacing young man, who wanted nothing more than to crusade in anonymity, is taking the rap for all of us. This chap, Arthur Toll, former Ohio assistant attorney general, is being driven from government service for no other reason than voicing a desire to fight against the kind of crime which has been plaguing George Meany ever since he became president of the AFL. The grim problems inherited by Mr. Meany are not all on the waterfront, however.

THE PROPOSED PROBE under Rep. George Bender would have helped solve some of them. For example, there are serious charges of corruption in painters' circles right in the capital itself.

These charges affect some government projects and there is suspicion that shakedown artists actually hit one of our most important defense establishments. So Bender's sub-committee of the House Committee on Government Operations quietly scheduled hearings in Washington for today and Friday.

Now Art Toll is fired. The vote against him was five to four, with Rep. Clare Hoffman swinging against Toll. But why? Because, says Hoffman, Toll impugned members of the committee. Nonsense! Toll was far milder than Hoffman himself was recently when the Bender committee looked into Minneapolis rackets.

On April 11 in that city Hoffman complained that he had been dumped from the chairmanship of the committee months before because he "Got too close to some powerful people in our investigation; so I was kicked out."

This corroborates Toll.

In that same city a day earlier, Rep. Bender, who succeeded Hoffman and has been trying to do a job, said:

"In my 24 years in Congress, I've never had to handle such a hot potato."

This also corrobates Toll.

STRANGE THINGS have been happening. All through the Minneapolis hearings there was constant bickering among the committee members. TV cameras and even radio mikes were banned.

There was also a feud between one member of the committee and its chief investigator, ex-FBI man Downey Rice, who made his reputation with the Kefauver probe. During the first morning of the Minneapolis hearings several committee members deprecated Rice's questioning of witnesses.

There were remarks described to me by one of the participants as "snide."

Rice was accused of using questionable tactics. One of the congressmen, a Democrat incidentally, said, "What can you expect of Rice? After all he was with Kefauver." Finally, during the afternoon session Rice stated that his critics were questioning his integrity. And would the Congressman please come outside and settle it man to man. The audience applauded.

Thereafter, hearings elsewhere were boycotted by some committee members—and Toll and Rice were fired by the five to four vote. Then Bender cut loose with a statement that made Toll's words to me sound like a quatrain from Mother Goose.

REFERRING TO the firing of both probers, Bender charged:

"This is just another step in a well planned campaign calculated to stop any investigation of labor racketeering by those who have much to lose if the facts are ever brought before the public."

This is a very serious allegation. Who is planning what campaign?

Who has much to lose if what facts are ever brought before the public?

Congressman Bender is an experienced and responsible legislator. It does not seem likely that he would make such a charge without being able to document it.

This may hardly be the season for it, and we aren't exactly short of congressional hearings — but isn't this something for the speaker of the House to look into?

Just what do all these charges mean? Why were the two committee investigators sacrificed for making milder statements than the congressmen themselves?

Yanks Score 7 Runs In First Inning, But Tribe Wins 8-7

Avila Homers In 9th, Smith In 10th; Indian Reliefers Hold Yankees Hitless For 9 Frames

NEW YORK (AP)—The come-from-behind Cleveland Indians spotted the New York Yankees a 7-0 lead in the first inning last night and then homered their way to a 8-7 triumph in 10 innings to boost their hold on first place to two full games.

At the end of the first two innings, Allie Reynolds, the world champions' ace righthander, had kept the Tribe hitless and the Yanks had chased Cleveland's Early Wynn from the mound.

Three Cleveland homers turned the tide. Left fielder Al Smith provided the game - winning smash with two out in the 10th and Bob Avila walloped the tying round-tripper to lead off the ninth. Both homers were into the left field seats and came off Johnny Sain, who relieved Reynolds in the ninth. He had thrown only one pitch before Avila's blow tied the score.

The other homer was a 440-foot blast by Larry Doby into the right-center bleachers for the Indians' first runs in the third inning. Smith, who had walked, and Avila, who had singled, scored ahead of Doby.

The three runs Cleveland didn't get on homers came in the fourth when Reynolds gave up singles by Dave Philley and Jim Hegan. With walks in between to Rudy Regalado and George Strickland that made it 7-4 with none out and the bases loaded. A wild throw to first by Gil McDougald after a force play at second let in two more runs, and the bases filled again on singles by Avila and Doby before Andy Carey threw out Al Rosen to end the rally.

While Tribe batters were battering Reynolds and star reliefer Sain for 13 hits in the last eight innings, five Cleveland moundsmen took turns at denying the Yankes even one safe hit in the nine innings that followed their first-inning outburst.

Lefty Hal Newhouser, last of the five, got credit for the victory, his second against one defeat and the 202nd of his career. He hurled the final three innings.

Wynn failed to get one Yankee out before Don Mossi replaced him in the first inning. Hank Bauer lined a single to left, then Phil Rizzuto, Mickey Mantle and Eddie Robinson grounded base hits just out of Tribe infielders' reach. That was all for Wynn, and Mossi came in with two runs across and two on. He got the first out on Enos Slaughter's pop up.

On McDougald's bunt, Mantle beat Mossi's throw to the plate and Carey walked to reload the bases. Charley Silvera's single off Mossi's glove scored Robinson, and the fifth run came home as Reynolds grounded to Avila.

Bauer's second single of the inning scored Carey and Silvera, but Doby threw Bauer out when he tried for second, ending the rally.

Dave Pope struck out, pinch-hitting for Mossi in the third, and Ray Narleski hurled the next inning. Dale Mitchell fouled out for Narleski in the fourth, and Bob Hooper came in. Vic Wertz, making his first appearance in a Cleveland uniform, fouled out for Hooper in the sixth, and Mike Garcia pitched the sixth and seventh frames. He went out for pinch-hitter Bill Glynn who singled in the eighth.

Jake LaMotta Says He's Done Boxing

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Former middleweight champion Jake LaMotta, who started a comeback after retiring 18 months ago, says he is through fighting.

"I'm tired and I'm through making excuses to myself," he said yesterday in announcing his retirement from the ring.

"I haven't any pep. I've been telling myself it's the weather and I've been working too hard. It's time to quit and nobody knows it better than do."

LaMotta, who won the middleweight title from Marcel Cerdan in 1949 and lost it to Sugar Ray Robinson in 1951, was scheduled to meet Ernie Durando in a nationally televised fight at the Miami Beach Auditorium Wednesday night. Billy Kilgore of Miami replaced him.

LaMotta dropped a split decision to Kilgore in his last fight here April 14.

White Sox Bow 5-2 To Boston; Brooklyn Regains NL Lead

Dodgers Drop Braves 7-6

Phils Defeat Redlegs, Orioles Trip Athletics

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

It looks more and more as if this Cleveland team really means business.

The Indians frankly admit they like it up on top of the American League standings and they're willing to fight to stay there.

Last night they fought and won their toughest battle so far as they beat the New York Yankees 8-7 in a 10-inning struggle at Yankee Stadium after the Yanks had jumped off to a 7-0 lead in the first inning.

A home run by Bobby Avila tied the score in the ninth and another homer, this time by Al Smith, broke it up. What made the comeback even more amaing, was the sensational relief pitching of five Indian hurlers who held the Yankees hitless for nine full innings after a six hit splurge in the first.

By winning, the Indians pulled two games in front of the White Sox, who bowed 5-2 to Boston Baltimore pushed Philadelphia into the league cellar with a 9-1 decision. Washington defeated Detroit 7-2.

Brooklyn took first place in the National League by one game over the Milwaukee Braves as they sloshed to a 7-6 decision against the Braves in five innings that consumed more than four hours, including two lengthy delays because of rain. Philadelphia beat Cincinnati 7-0. It was too cold for Pittsburgh and the Cubs in Chicago and too wet in St. Louis for the Cardinals and New York.

Sandy Consuegra had piled up five straight victories but he ran into a storm in the very first inning at Boston. The White Sox right-hander was battered for four runs in the first and his mates couldn't get even against rookie Frank Sullivan and veteran Ellis Kinder. Jackie Jensen's two-run triple was the big blow of the Red Sox' first.

Joe Coleman got another chance to taunt his former teammates as he registered his fifth victory for Baltimore and his second straight over the Athletics. The Orioles clubbed 14 hits, equalling their best total of the season. Clint Courtney's three run homer climaxed a six-run rally in the eighth.

Eddie Yost of the Senators played his 700th consecutive game, the longest streak since Lou Gehrig of the Yankees ran up his total of 2,130. The occasion was a successful one for the Senators, who hopped on Steve Gromek for six runs in the first four innings for an easy victory over Detroit.

Curt Simmons of the Phillies scattered six Cincinnati hits in winning his second shutout and his fifth game. He's been beaten four times.

The Milwaukee game was held up for 1 hour and 31 minutes at the start of the third with Brooklyn ahead 2-1. The Braves went ahead 6-2 in the last of the fourth on Eddie Mathews' grandslam home run.

With the rain coming down it looked as if all the Braves had to do to pick up the victory was to get three Dodgers out in the fifth. But before they could, they had made two errors, Brooklyn had added three hits and had scored five runs to take the lead.

ENTRY — In Al Rosen, left, and Bobby Avila, the Indians have a strong entry taking dead aim at the American League batting championship.

Further Rain May Spoil Ohio Streams For Weekend Fishing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Most Ohio lakes appear to be in good shape for weekend fishing, but many streams are roily to muddy and further rain may ruin the weekend for stream anglers.

This was the word from the Ohio Wildlife Division in its weekly report on fishing conditions.

It reported this week's opening of the walleye season at Pymatuning Lake in Ashtabula County—on the Pennsylvania line—was a field day for anglers. Some 2,000 walleyes — the largest an 11½-pounder taken by T. L. Ziegler of Warren—were caught the first day of the season. Pymatuning also is yielding crappies up to 17 inches.

Here is the district-by-district report:

NORTHWESTERN — Most lakes and streams normal and clear. Oxbow Lake is producing some fine catches of largemouth bass. Lake St. Marys is low and roily, but bass, crappies and catfish are being taken. A weed cutter is starting to work in East Harbor, Ottawa County, because vegetation growth has slowed the largemouth fishing there.

NORTHEASTERN — Pymatuning's walleye and crappie fishing has overshadowed other fishing in this area for the week, but nice bass and bluegill catches continue in the Portage lakes and Pleasant Hill and Guilford lakes. The weekend outlook at Pymatuning is very good and is fair to good in other district lakes.

EAST CENTRAL AND SOUTHEASTERN— Large streams such as the Hocking, Walhonding and Muskingum rivers continue clear anl normal. All lakes are clear and yielding fair catches.

CENTRAL AND SOUTHERN — Most Franklin County streams such as Scioto and Olentangy rivers and Big Walnut, Blacklick and Alum creeks are roily, but fishable. Most streams in southern portion of the district are muddy and the fishing outlook is poor. Some Licking and Knox county streams are clear and normal and the outlook is fair.

SOUTHWESTERN — Champaign County's Kiser Lake continues to be the hot spot in southwestern Ohio. Bass, bluegills, crappies and catfish are hitting heavily. One fisherman in the last week took 100 crappies in one hour and another took 40 bluegills in a similar period. Indian and Grant lakes are normal with good catches. Most streams are in fair condition.

Red Caps, Georgetown, Amvets Win

The Red Caps edged Homeworth 14-13, Georgetown defeated the Democrats 7-0, and the Amvets walloped Beloit 20-12 last night in high scoring girls softball action at Kelley Field.

A 12-run fifth inning gave the Red Caps their victory. Burrier collected two hits for the winners and Stoffer and I. Stryffeler had three each for the Homeworth.

Schneider struck out 13 as Georgetown downed the Democrats and gave up only three hits. Butch and G. Odey had two hits each for Georgetown and Do Stoffer collected two of the Democrats' base safeties.

Gillett paced the Amvets with five hits in six trips, with Reeder adding four hits to the cause. Sanders hit safely four times for Beloit.

Bliss and Butler Grange will battle tonight at 7:45 in one of the top games of the City Softball season.

The Merchants scored all their runs in the third inning. Dave Roller drew a base on balls and was forced at second by Stitle. Bill Odorizzi, Barnes, Red Weingart and Lease each singled, driving in two runs. Two more runs scored on third baseman Gaither's bad throw to first on Jerry Louden's grounder.

Umpire

By BEANS REARDON
24 Years in National League

Q. In a Yankee-Red Sox game this season, the Yankee pitcher would put his foot on the rubber and then seem to stand there for a minute before throwing. Exactly how long is he allowed to stall around?

A. When a pitcher is ready to throw — and he's ready the moment his foot is on the rubber—he must throw within 20 seconds.

Q. What is the best way for an outfielder to catch a fly?

A. If it is a fly on which he has time to judge it and then wait for it to come down, it always is better to catch the ball at chest or belt level — much safer than reaching above the head to take the ball.

Q. How many scouts does a major leaue team retain?

A. It varies, but let's take the Brooklyn Dodgers as an example. The Flock bird dogs, operating under chief scout Andy High, number 39.

Q. How did last year's season series between the Red Sox and Yankees wind up?—A.E.

A The Yankees won 11 games, the Red Sox 10.

Dry May Weather Retarded Crop Growth, Observer Says

Below normal rainfall and temperatures in May left crops and other vegetation growth at almost a standstill and top soil extremely dry by the end of the month, L. H. Copeland, district weather observer, reported today.

Copeland said the area has received no rainfall of any consequence since May 10, and soaking rains and warm days are needed throughout June to produce normal crops.

Pastures and meadows are short and a light hay crop is foreseen by Copeland.

The May mean temperature was 54.8 as recorded by the veteran observer, compared to a 62-year average of 57.9.

May rainfall was only 1.73 inches compared to the 62-year average of 3.43 inches.

Maximum temperature for May was 88 on May 28 and coldest day was 29 on May 5. The month's average temperature was only 1.4 degrees warmer than April. May had 11 clear days, 14 partly cloudy, six cloudy, and seven rainy days.

May sunshine amounted to 60 per cent compared to a normal of 65 per cent and only 50 per cent last year.

Total rainfall this year is now near normal, Copeland says.

Last year's May average temperature was 59.6 with a heavy 5.69 inches of rain recorded that year.

The warmest May mean temperature on record was in 1944 at 65.5 degrees and the coolest was 1924 at 51.7.

The wettest May was in 1929 when 6.50 inches of rain fell and the driest was in 1934 when only .62 inches fell.

The weather observer says planting of crops is now completed and early planted oats are coming to a good stand. Corn is coming through the ground and wheat fields look favorable, he reports, but adds that June will have to produce almost 100 per cent growing weather in order to insure normal crops.

Salem Grange Plans Dairy Month Program

Salem Grange will observe Dairy Month Friday at the grange hall beginning with a coverdish dinner at 7:30 p.m.

All foods for the meal are to include milk or milk products, and the beverage will be milk.

The program will include music and panel discussions. Since June is "bride month" all women are asked to model their wedding dresses, or have them modeled. Prizes will be given for the prettiest and the oldest dresses.

All members are urged to attend, especially the dairy farmers.

Brazil Hikes Minimum Price For Coffee Crop

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Brazil has boosted the minimum price for this summer's coffee crop from 68 to 87 cents a pound. The hike will have little current effect on foreign buyers, no wpaying 88 cents a pound for the bean, but it promises little likelihood of prices declining for at least another year.

TO PRESIDE AT MEETING

Robert Potter of Salem will preside at a meeting tonight at 8 of the Northern District Boy Scout Committee at Camp McKinley near Lisbon.

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Capt. Gus Mangione, an expert in handling fires, explosions and disasters the past 20 years, was almost stumped by the "smiling squirrel."

A woman telephoned the city fire dispatcher and wailed.

"I don't want to alarm you. There isn't a fire or anything but there is a squirrel in my house and he keeps smiling at me. I'm afraid of him."

'Madam, there's a what smiling at you," asked Mangione.

"A squirrel,' she replied. "evevery time I raise a broom to it, it smiles.'

With the idea thus firmly established, Mangione dispatched three firemen to the scene. They found the apartment house manager, Mrs. J. W. Burbridge, had the grinning nutcracker cornered. A safe distance away, several other women watched proceedings.

The firemen, after one look, couldn't agree the genial rodent was smiling.

"He was definitely growling when we saw him,' they reported.

After a telephone conversation with Mangione, who gave orders to capture the "beast" alive, the firemen donned gloves, pinned the squirrel with a broom and sent him on his way.

He scampered off, apparently just as happy to be outdoors again as the ladies were to be rid of him.

Although the female Indian elephants have very small tusks those of African elephants are large and are used extensively in feeding.

TRUMAN CANCELS TALKS

CLEVELAND (AP)—Former President Harry Truman last night called off a luncheon speech he was slated to give here next Tuesday at a human rights institute sponsored jointly by the CIO and AFL. As a result, the institute was also cancelled. Truman said he was calling off his June and July appointments to catch up on back work on his memoirs.

Agricultural Service Sets Farm Meetings

LISBON — Three agricultural meetings of interest to cattle farmers and strawberry growers have been announced by the county agricultural extension service.

Brown Swiss dairy cattle farmers from eleven northeast Ohio counties will meet at the Paul Witmer farm east of Washingtonville Friday. The program, which includes judging by 4-H club members, will begin at 10:30 a.m.

A number of county beef cattle growers are expected to attend Beef Cattle Day at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station at Wooster June 11.

Fifteen varieties of strawberries in test plots at the Firestone Farms near Columbiana will be inspected next Thursday during a twilight tour beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Berry growers also will visit the farm of Ralph Papania and Sons, southeast of New Waterford, where strawberry and raspberry fields of Thomas Colella will be examined at 8 p.m. Colella is a son-in-law of Papania.

Robert Hill, horticulturist at the state experiment station, will speak. The meeting is open to all interested persons.

40,000 Yanks In England Set To Defend West with A-Bombs

WETHERSFIELD, England (AP) — The Yanks are back in Britain today more than 40,000 strong.

If necessary, they could hit an enemy tomorrow with more destructive power than was at the command of two million Americans here on the eve of the big invasion 10 years ago.

Their awesome power is in the big atom bombers which are hurtling across Britain's skies—a part of America's atom bomb fleet.

This atomic striking force is on a ready-to-go basis, geared to strike swiftly from some of the airfields so familiar to American airmen in World War II.

The old fields—from which the Battle of Britain was waged and from which the massive strikes were hurled against Nazi Germany—are now the defenses of the Western world against any surprise Russian aggression.

The intercontinental B36s, the B47 jets and jet fighters rumble across the skies in training maneuvers which are grim reminders that the great invasion effort of 1944 left behind only an uneasy peace.

This new American buildup in Britain is scattered across 15 operational air bases and in headquarters, hospitals and supply depots. Other fields are under construction through agreements with the British.

The old airfields of World War II no longer are capable of handling the bigger, faster bombers of today. Their 6,000-feet runways have been, or are being, extended to 10,000 feet and strengthened to withstand the greater weight of the modern aircraft.

In this effort, dollars are pouring into the British economy at the rate of 10 million a month.

The American strength is made up of the 7th Air Division, the atom bombers which are part of Gen. Curtis Lemay's Strategic Air Command: the 3rd Air Force; and the Northern Air Material Area (Supply).

Every 90 days the flock of atom bombers returns home and is replaced by another in a continuous program of training on a wartime alert basis.

The 3rd Air Force is the administrative and housekeeping organization and has the tatical jet aircraft. This is the "permanent' organization which stays in Britain and whose personnel serves three years before being eligible for rotation home. The 3rd is part of the area command of Gen. William Turner, chief of the U. S. Air Force in Europe, at Weisbaden, Germany.

Some airmen have come back to the same fields from which they blew in the last war—back to old British friends and familiar scenes.

There still is the same old World War II problem of the Americans trying to get along amicably with the British—and vice versa.

An Air Force booklet published in an effort to bring about a better American-British understanding had this to say of the problem: "Too many Americans have developed a 'world-savior' complex. From the moment they arrive in Britain they expect to be treated like knights in shining armor, and it hurts a little to be told right off the bat that 'you ain't no blinkin' 'ero.'

"Some of us came over expecting to find the population all a-jitter, feverishly inspecting its stock of steel helmets and A-bomb ointment. Instead we see the British going about their defense preparations with irritating calm. That's the way they do everything. . . ."

But despite their differences, there is a close working relationship between the British and American airmen.

And it's a vitally important relationship—because if war should come, it is from the airfields of Britain that atom bombers would launch their attacks.

In early geologic ages there were insects with wing spans as much as 30 inches and body lengths of 18 inches.

Ike Praises Party Fight Against Reds'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Wednesday his administration has an impressive list of accomplishments in fighting Communism and subversion.

The President made the statement at his news conference after virtually barring questions on the sharp controversy between members of his administration and Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

One newsman, nevertheless, asked the President whether he feels that McCarthy is hurting the administration's legislative program.

A look of sharp annoyance came over the President's face and after a pause he turned away from the questioner and snapped out that he was ready for the next question.

Salt ocean water, heavier than fresh water, often travels far upstream along the bottom of rivers.

New York Black Bottom Pie

Recipes sure do get around—and take on new features while they're traveling.

When we first met up with Black Bottom Pie, it was a Deep South offering with a gingersnap crust, a chocolate layer, another rum-flavored custard layer, and a topping of whipped cream and shaved chocolate.

Then we heard that Black Bottom Pie was the piece de resistance among desserts at a famous Hollywood restaurant where it achieved a pastry shell, a layer of chocolate filling mixed with whipped cream, and a whipped cream and grated chocolate topping.

Recently a friend of ours visited that California restaurant, tasted the pie and was inspired to return to New York and create her own version of Black Bottom. Here it is, New York style, and utterly delicious.

The crust of this new Black Bottom is a luscious combination of ground Brazil nuts and sugar — so easy to prepare that even the newest cook can turn it out perfectly. Chocolate filling goes into the crust — a filling with a delicate airy texture achieved by using unflavored gelatin.

Mindful of budgets, the filling also uses evaporated milk instead of cream. Cream, however, makes the topping. You finish off the pie with a garnish of Brazil-nut and chocolate curl "flowers."

To shell the Brazil nuts for the pie the easy way, follow these directions. Cover the nuts with cold water; bring to a boil and boil three minutes; drain. Cover with cold water; let stand one minute; drain and crack.

Put some of the shelled nuts through the food grinder, using the coarse blade, and use them in the crust.

For the toasted sliced nuts used in the garnish, follow these steps. Cover the shelled whole nuts with cold water and bring slowly to a boil; simmer two or three minutes; drain. Now slice the nuts thin—you'll be able to do this with a sharp knife and the slices will remain intact. Now spread the slices in a shallow pan and toast in a moderate (350 F.) oven for 10 to 20 minutes.

Remember that you can use this Brazil-nut crust for all kinds of chiffon fillings. You'll like it at holiday time because it is wonderfully delicious with such fluffy chiffon fillings as pumpkin, eggnog, and Nesselrode.

This new version of Black Bottom Pie is one to serve when you invite friends for coffee and dessert. It also makes a divine dessert for a dinner that features meat, poultry or fish.

Black Bottom Pie, New York Style

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¾ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 egg yolk (slightly beaten)
¾ cup milk
4 squares (4 ounces) unsweetened chocolate
1 cup icy cold evaporated milk (whipped)
1 teaspoon vanilla
one 9-inch Brazil-Nut Crust
1 cup heavy cream (whipped and sweetened)
toasted Brazil-nut slices

Mix gelatin, sugar and salt in top of double boiler. Combine egg yolk and milk; add to gelatin mixture. Add 3 squares of the chocolate; cook over boiling water until chocolate is melted, stirring often.

Remove from heat and beat with rotary beater unil smooth. Chill until thickened. Fold in whipped evaporated milk and vanilla.

Turn into Brazil-nut crush and chill. Spread with whipped cream. Arrange Brazil-nut slices "flower" fashion on top of pie. Shave remaining 1 square of chocolate into curls with swivel-blade peeler, pile in center of "flowers."

Brazil-Nut Crust

1 cup ground Brazil nuts (½ pound unshelled nuts)
2 tablespoons sugar

Mix the Brazil nuts with sugar in a 9-inch pie plate. Press the mixture with back of tablespoon against the bottom and sides of the pie plate. If a toasted flavor is desired, bake in a hot (400 F.) oven 8 minutes, or until lightly browned. Cool.

SUNBURST CUSTARD

3 cups milk
4 eggs
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ cup sugar
1 cup drained, sliced brandy-flavored canned peaches

Have kettle boiling for water-bath for custard. In saucepan, heat milk just until small bubbles appear around top surface. In medium-sized or large mixing bowl, with rotary beater, beat eggs until yolks and whites are combined. Add salt, vanilla and sugar; stir with spoon.

Gradually stir in scalded milk. Strain into buttered 1½-quart baking dish; place in deep baking pan; pour boiling water into pan so it comes almost to top of custard. Bake in slow (325 F.) oven 1 hour, or until knife inserted in center comes out clean.

Remove from oven at once and place custard in pan of cold water to cool quickly. Chill. Before serving, arrange peaches in pretty design over top of custard. Makes 6 servings.

LEMON OATMEAL COOKIES

1¾ cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
2½ cups uncooked rolled oats
½ cup shortening or butter or margarine (soft)
1½ cups beet or cane sugar
½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
1 egg
1 tablespoon grated lemon rind
¼ cup lemon juice

Sift together flour, baking soda and salt. Add rolled oats. With a rotary beater (hand or electric) beat together shortening, sugars, egg, lemon rind and lemon juice. Stir in flour mixture; mixture will be stiff. Chill 1 hour. Drop by spoonfuls onto lightly greased baking sheet a few inches apart. Bake in moderate (375 F.) oven 12 minutes or until lightly browned. Makes about 4 dozen cookies.

QUICK APPLE CRISP

One 1 pound and 4 ounce can sliced apples
1-3 cup flour
dash of salt
½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ cup butter or margarine

Turn apples (with juice) into a 9-inch pie plate. Mix flour, salt, brown sugar and cinnamon together. Add butter and work in with pastry blender until fine and crumbly; sprinkle over apples. Bake in hot (400 F.) oven about 45 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Hamburgers Can Be Varied

From New York to San Francisco, Detroit to New Orleans, hamburgers are top favorites with all ages. So let's refresh our knowledge of this all-America subject.

Good hamburg patties start with top-quality ground beef. The ready-ground beef in a reputable dealer's case can generally be counted on for freshness. Boneless chuck, round, neck or flank are excellent, although a small amount of suet should be ground with round steak to provide fat for flavor and juiciness.

For thick beef patties, have the meat ground only once and use a light touch when making and cooking the patties. Remember, too, ground beef, like other meat, is best when given a slow browning and cooking through.

Variations of the hamburger are legion. Simplest is to serve two thinner patties with a slice of cheese, either American or the tangier varieties, between the hot patties. The chees will mlt in contact with the just - of- the - range ties. The cheese slices also may be cut to fit thin patties of uncooked beef and tucked between two patties before cooking.

Serve the hamburger patties topped with a flavorful butter mixture, or don't shape the patties and serve the browned hamburger meat in a thick barbecue sauce to be ladled over the toasted buns. These are known as "Tavern Burgers" in some areas of the country and are a special favorite of the teen age crowd.

Mix 2 tablespoons butter with one of the following and spread on hot broiled or panfried ham burger patties before serving. tablespoons Worcestershire sauce; 1 tablespoon prepared mustard; 2 tablespoons blue cheese; 2 tablespoons chopped chives; or a combination of 2 tablespoons catsup and 1 teaspoon prepared mustard or chili powder.

SUPPER LOAF

2 tablespoons fat
¼ cup diced onion
¼ cup diced green pepper
1 cup water
1½ teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ cup quick-cooking rice cereal
1 egg (slightly beaten)
1½ cups chopped salted peanuts
1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
½ cup milk
1½ cups grated cheddar cheese

Melt fat in saucepan over moderate heat. Add onion and green pepper and cook about 5 minutes, stirring often. Add water, salt and Worcestershire. Bring to boil; sprinkle in rice cereal so boiling does not stop.

Cook and stir constantly for 1 minute. Lower heat and cook 5 minutes longer. Gradually stir into beaten egg. Add peanuts, bread crumbs, milk and cheese; mix lightly but well with fork. Pour into greased loaf pan, 8 by 4 inches.

Bake in moderate (350 F.) oven until firm, about 1 hour. Serve hot with mushroom sauce.

Eggs Make A Good Main Dish

Running out of ideas for simple main dishes? Then use the good old egg — in these two delicious ways.

First way is to serve eggs in a sauce over English muffins as a luncheon dish. A cooked vegetable —peas or carrots, for instance— tastes fine with this dish.

Second way is to combine eggs with a small can of salmon for a golden-brown gloriously puffy salmon souffle. Serve the souffle with crisp potato sticks (these come in cans) or with potato chips, and a salad of tomato aspic and lettuce or romaine.

Be sure to have the salad on individual plates because nothing is worse, in our estimation, than to have a molded food nestling next to one that's hot!

Both these dishes are excellent for family use because they call for that nutritious and economical product — nonfat dry milk powder. Keep a package of the milk on a cool dry pantry shelf so it will be at hand when you need it.

English Muffin Eggs

2 cups water
2-3 cup nonfat dry milk powder
4 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons pickle relish
6 hardcooked eggs
4 to 6 English muffins

Pour water into top of double boiler. Sprinkle nonfat dry milk powder, flour, mustard, salt and pepper over surface of water. Beat with rotary beater until just blended. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Chop egg whites coarsely; add egg whites and relish to sauce. Sieve egg yolks.

To serve: toast split English muffins and spread with butter or margarine; pour sauce over muffins; sprinkle sieved egg yolk over each serving. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Salmon Souffle

1-3 cup nonfat dry milk powder
2 tablespoons flour,
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup water
4 eggs (separated)
one 7¾ ounce can salmon (boned and flaked)
2 teaspoons finely chopped parsley
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion

Pour water into top of double boiler. Mix nonfat dry milk powder, flour and salt. Sprinkle over surface of water. Beat with rotary beater until just blended. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Remove from heat.

Beat egg yolks until lemon colored. Add a little of the hot mixture to egg yolks; blend well. Return to remaining hot mixture. Add salmon, parsley, lemon juice, and onion; blend well. Cool. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; fold into cooled mixture.

Pour into buttered 1½-quart casserole. Bake in a slow (325 F.) oven about 1 hour or until puffed and golden brown. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

ORIENTAL STEAK DISH

1 pound flank or round steak
2 tablespoons oil
1 clove garlic (minced)
1 cup beef consomme
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon ginger
1 cup diagonally sliced celery
1½ cups diagonally sliced raw carrots
one 3-ounce can sliced broiled mushrooms
½ cup sliced scallions
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 tablespoon soy sauce
1 teaspoon sugar

Cut flank steak across the grain in ¼-inch strips about 2 inches long. Heat oil in frying pan. Add meat and brown quickly. Add garlic, consomme, salt, ginger, celery and carrots.

Cover and bring to boil. Cook until vegetables are barely tender. Drain mushrooms, reserving broth, then add drained mushrooms and scallions to meat mixture. Blend together and stir in cornstarch, mushroom broth, soy sauce and sugar. Cook and stir until sauce thickens. Makes 4 servings.

EVERYDAY WAFFLES

1¾ cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
2 eggs
1¼ cups milk
6 tablespoons butter or margarine (melted)

Sift together flour, baking powder, and salt. Beat eggs until foamy; beat in milk and melted butter. Beat in dry ingredients only until smooth. Bake on waffle iron, following manufacturer's directions for your particular appliance. Makes 6 waffles.

Lamb kidneys usually weigh only about two ounces each. You need about ten of the lamb kidneys to serve five people.

Creole Dish, Shrimp Jambalaya

Here comes New Orleans! Yes, we've been cooking that wonderful Creole dish — Shrimp Jambalaya. We've been streamlining it a bit, too, so you can make it successfully for your next buffet supper.

One accompaniment to this Jambalaya we always like — a green salad. Use romaine, or water cress and cucumbers, if they are available, for the salad; otherwise, mak do with what you can get. Just be sure your greens are chilled and crisp, and that the salad has plenty of French dressing on it. This Jambalaya is not a sauce-y dish— it cooks dry — and you need a salad doused in dressing to go with it.

This recipe will make hearty servings for eight. But if you should not have that many, don't worry. Put the leftovers in a covered casserole in the refrigerator. Next day, stir in a little curry powder, dot with butter or margarine and heat uncovered in a very hot oven. When we tried this, our taste-testers gave us compliments a-plenty!

Shrimp Jambalaya

2 pounds shrimp
2 tablespoons salad oil
1½ cups diced smoked lean raw ham (sliced thin)
¼ cup butter or margarine
1 green pepper (chopped)
2 medium-sized onions (chopped)
1 clove garlic (minced)
1 bay leaf (crumbled)
2 cups uncooked converted-type
1 cup strained court bouillon (to one No. 2½ can tomatoes salt and pepper and cayenne (to taste)
onion rings

Cook shrimp in court bouillon. Shell and devein. Heat oil in 12-inch skillet. Add ham and brown. Remove ham from skillet; set aside. Add butter to remaining oil in pan. Add green pepper, onion, garlic, and bay leaf; cook until onion is partly tender and lightly browned.

Add rice; cook and stir constantly until browned. Stir in 1 cup court bouillon, tomatoes and reserved ham.

Cover skillet and simmer, stirring with fork occasionally, about 30 minutes or until rice is cooked. Add salt, pepper and cayenne. If mixture becomes too dry before rice is cooked, add more court bouillon — you may need ½ cup extra.

When rice is cooked, stir in shrimp; if shrimp are large, cut in two lengthwise. Turn into casserole; garnish with onion rings. Place in hot (425 F.) oven just long enough to heat shrimp — 5 to 10 minutes. Makes 8 servings.

Court Bouillon for Shrimp

1½ quarts water
simmer 2 to 5 minutes. Drain
½ stalk celery
1 carrot sliced
1 small white onion (sliced juice of ½ lemon
a few peppercorns

Put water in saucepan. Add all ingredients and bring to boil. Add shrimp. Let water come to boil; shrimp, reserving court bouillon.

QUICK TOMATO SAUCE

2 tablespoons olive or peanut oil
1 pound ground beef
½ cup finely diced onion
1 can (1 lb. 13 ounces) tomato puree
1 can (6 to 7 ounces) tomato paste
¾ cup water
3 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon dried crushed oregano
¼ teaspoon dried crushed marjoram or basil
¼ teaspoon gravy coloring sauce
1 clove garlic (crushed)

Heat oil in 12-inch skillet; add bef and onion; mas with kitchen fork over moderate heat until meat loses its red color. Add remaining ingredients; stir well. Simmer, covered, about 30 minutes; stir occasionally. Makes about 1½ quarts thick sauce. Use as much as needed and refrigerate rest. Serve over spaghetti and sprinkle with Parmesan cheese.

MUSHROOMS A LA CREME

½ pound medium-sized mushrooms
3 tablespoons butter or marga-
salt and pepper
¾ teaspoons flour
¼ cup cream

Rinse mushrooms quickly in cold water; wipe dry; cut a thin slice from stem ends and discard. Slice mushrooms vertically through caps and stems. Melt butter in 8-inch skillet; add mushrooms and cook over moderately low heat until partly wilted, stirring for several minutes.

Turn heat low and cover tightly; cook about 5 minutes longer so juices will accumulate. Sprinkle lightly with salt and pepper. Stir in flour until it disappears. Add cream; stir until sauce thickens; add more salt and pepper if necessary. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

ORANGE NUT BREAD

2 cups pancake ready-mix
¼ cup firmly packed brown sugar
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
½ cup chopped nutmeats
1 egg (beaten)
1¼ cups milk
2 tablespoons shortening (melted)

Mix together pancake ready-mix, sugar, orange rind and nuts. Add beaten egg and milk; stir until dry ingredients are moistened. Fold in shortening. Bake in greased waxed paper-lined loaf pan (1 pound size) in a moderate (350F) oven about 1 hour. Store in tightly covered container 1 day before slicing.

SAVORY HAM

One 1¾- to 2-pound boneless smoked shoulder butt
boiling water
1 clove garlic
¼ teaspoon whole cloves
¼ teaspoon peppercorns
1 bay leaf

Remove all coverings from butt; place in kettle; cover with boiling water. Crush garlic in mortar with pestle or with heavy-blade knife on wax-paper; add to kettle with cloves, peppercorns and bay leaf. Cover and simmer 2 hours or until tender; drain and slice; serve hot.

Potatoes Used In Meat Pie

You may want to try this recipe which we tried at home last week. It has really good flavor and is packed with food value.

Deviled-Potato Pie
(Makes 6-8 servings)

Shortening
1 small onion, chopped
1 small green pepper, chopped
1 tablespoon minced parsley
1 cup cubed process cheese
6 large white potatoes, peeled and sliced thin
2 cans (2¼ ounces) deviled ham seasoning
Melt shortening in heavy skillet so generous layer covers bottom of pan. Combine onion, green pepper, parsley and cheese.

Spread layer of thin-sliced raw potatoes in hot fat and sprinkle with vegetable-cheese combination, then dot all over with bits of deviled ham.

Continue to make layers in this way until all ingredients are used, seasoning as desired as you go along.

Press down firmly in pan and cook over moderate heat for about 10 minutes. Cover skillet and continue cooking over low heat for an additional 25 minutes. To serve, turn out bottomside up on hot plate and cut in pie-shaped wedges.

From the New Hampshire Extension Service comes this potato-and-bacon omelet:

Potato and Bacon Omelet

Two cups boiled potatoes (cubed)
salt and pepper
3 slices bacon
2 eggs

Cook diced bacon until crisp. Add potatoes, salt and pepper. Beat eggs slightly and pour over bacon and potatoes. Cook until eggs are set. Fold like omelet.

Top Quality
HOUSE PAINT

This is NOT an inferior product. It is inexpensive because they make only

FILBERT STARS

2¼ cups sifted flour
1¾ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 egg
2 tablespoons milk
1 egg white
½ cup filberts (put through a rotary grater so they are finely chopped)

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter, sugar and vanilla. Beat in egg thoroughly; then milk. Stir in flour mixture gradually with spoon, mixing well after each addition. Chill dough. Roll no more than one-quarter of the dough at a time to ⅛-inch thickness on floured board or prepared pastry cloth.

Cut cookies with star-shaped (about 2 inches) cutter. Brush cookies with egg white; sprinkle with filberts. Place on ungreased baking sheet about ¾-inch apart; bake in moderate (375 F.) oven 8 to 10 minutes, or until edges are lightly browned. Makes 6½ dozen cookies.

Any burned-on food on the floor of your oven? Set a small dish of ammonia in the oven and leave it there for several hours or overnight; the ammonia softens the burned-on food and makes removal less of a chore than it usually is.

Flash Blast Aboard Sub Kills 2 Workers

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. (AP)—A flash explosion early Wednesday killed two civilian workmen aboard the Navy submarine Sirago as she lay in drydock at the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard.

A sailor on fire watch duty nearby was burned by the blast, but his condition was described as "not critical."

Six other civilians working on the submarine were not injured.

Capt. Robert E. Cronin, commander of the shipyard, said the blast was in the submarine's main ballast tank, where the two victims were spraying a plastic substance.

He said the submarine did not appear heavily damaged. An investigation was ordered.

The Navy identified the dead men as Raouel Senechel, 28, of Somersworth, and Joseph E. A. Rousseau, 40, of Portsmouth, both painters.

The injured sailor's name was withheld pending notification of next of kin.

The blast was the second to strike a naval vessel in one week. Last Wednesday an explosion aboard the carrier Bennington off Quonset Point, R. I., killed 100 men.

One of the workmen killed on the Sirago was inside the ballast tank and the other was working on the tank from the outside.

Suit Against Singer for Molesting Girl Denied

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A $35,000 damage suit against singer Jimmy Boyd and two other boys accused of molesting a child actress has been dismissed.

Boyd's lawyer said no settlement was involved in the dismissal yesterday of the suit. The girl, Betty Lucas, 13, had claimed the boys took her to Griffith Park in an automobile last Sept. 24 and molested her. In hearing the principals last Nov. 16, Superior Judge William B. McKesson expressed the opinion the boys were only "necking."
